The Tampa Bay Coalition of Reason is pleased to welcome the

As a constituent group member.

The Humanists of Sarasota Bay (HUSBAY) began organizing in 1999. The Council of Secular Humanism provided assistance with our startup. Six people showed up for the first organizational meeting, and we slowly built up to our present membership of more than 100.

During that first year we began a lecture series open to the public which continues to the present day. In that first year we also began Saturday morning breakfasts for informal discussions with about four to eight in attendance. In 2003 we switched to a weekly luncheon, which quickly became very popular and is continuing today. Attendance is between fifteen and thirty or more with the larger numbers during the winter season. This, like the breakfasts, has remained informal. It is open to anyone who might want to see what we are like, or who seeks the camaraderie of other humanists. We have an annual picnic in the spring, and have recently begun an annual Darwin Day celebration with a dinner and speaker. We have developed several special interest groups that meet monthly: a philosophical group, a writer's group, a current events group, a film group, a religion and society group, and a nonfiction book review group. Others have come and gone, such as wine tasting, an investment group, and a book club, but could be revived whenever someone volunteers as a facilitator as has happened with the philosophical group. We sponsor a city park by doing a cleanup of the park three times a year. We have a Caring Committee to offer comfort to our members who have become ill or injured. Our internet newsletter goes out monthly to anyone who wishes to receive it, and we maintain a website that shows our activities and schedules.

In 2011 we became incorporated. This provides the Board members with some legal protection and makes us a tax exempt organization. HUSBAY serves mostly social and intellectual interests. The lectures have stimulated and enlightened us while the lunches have provided discussion and fellowship. The organization offers a haven for those who seek to find others they can share their secular orientation with and with whom they can feel a camaraderie and a relief from the sectarian world. The members have been reluctant to engage in any prominent social action but many individual members support groups that are active in social action and social justice. In addition, the organization has affiliated with, or provided donations to several secular organizations which support social action.

We expect to continue to provide a port in the storm for anyone who shares our values, and we hope to contribute to a more rational and just world. <http://sarasota.humanists.net/>

Darwin's Gift

Proved to be a great success for the Coalition. Some 125 attendees took the opportunity to learn more about the scientific enterprise and renewed their interest in ensuring its integrity.

Sean Faircloth, Ryan Cagun, and Jim Strayer were great and informative speakers. We thank them! More later...

A Great turnout on February 9th.

Matt Cooper returns:

Why Conservatives and Liberals Think D_If^fe_reⁿt*i*y

Former political consultant and full time Humanist, Matt Cooper draws from the current work of neuroscientists, psychologists, linguists, sociologists and political scientists to explain how progressives and conservatives are really “different in the head” both biologically and morally. An understanding of these underlying differences might very well allow Americans to become less polarized, while giving elected officials tools to provide better government. Matt presents dozens of proposals that might slowly bridge the moral rift, and invites the audience to weigh in on each.

Food: the first kindness. Humanists aspire to true friendship with our fellow human beings. An important measure of this concern is care for the physical well being of others. There is increasing hunger here in our community. Don't forget to bring canned and boxed food or checks for:

Talk with Author,
Luis Granados

Damned Good Company is a book about people, not about God. People who have preached about God, taken money for sharing what they say they know about God, and ordered others about to enforce what they claim to be God's will—and a small band of heroes who stood up to them.

In short, Damned Good Company is a Profiles in Courage for humanists.

Some of the twenty heroes of Damned Good Company are well-known: Erasmus, Voltaire, Thomas Paine, Clarence Darrow, Atatürk, Nehru, Steve Biko. Others are not: people like Han Yü, banished from the 9th century Chinese court for questioning the worship of the Buddha's finger, and Lucy Harris, who came within an inch of deflating Mormonism before it got off the ground.

Each hero is contrasted with a villain of his or her time and place: either a God expert like Martin Luther or Joseph Smith, or a cynical politician like Mussolini, who never believed in God, but exploited religion shamelessly to advance his political ambition.

The stories in Damned Good Company will inspire those today who want to stand up to the Christian Right, the Muslim fanatics, the oppressiveness of Catholic and Jewish orthodoxy, the rising Hindu Taliban, and everyone else who claims a God-given right to tell the rest of us what to do.

Damned Good Company is available from HumanistPress.com and all major online ebook retailers.
---AHA

The Tampa Humanist Association is the only AHA Humanist group in Hillsborough County. This is a county of more than 1 million people. If statistical averages are correct, than at least 150,000 of those people do not support conventional institutions of religion. Currently, our roles do not number more than 20. I think we can agree that there is room for growth.

We experienced a major setback with the death of president and cofounder Rob Byrch, but with still enthusiastic members and board, and support from our sister organization, the Humanist Society of the Suncoast, we continue to offer the people of Tampa, a local Humanist option.

Join today, or renew your dues. Only $25/ year or $35 with the Happy Humanist pin. $5 more includes spouse + 2 pins.

A Humanist Helping Hand

Several members have formed a caring response team to help members of our Humanist family who may need supportive practical help. This is an independent group, not affiliated directly with the Humanist Society. But their efforts are wholly consistent with the Humanist outlook. Our next meeting is scheduled for March 10th 5103 S Westshore Blvd. Tampa, and we will be doing our first webcast (you can be a participant or cheer people on from the sidelines. Care will be taken to make sure those that don't want to appear on screen are not seen.)

Our first meeting of every quarter is now going to be a potluck, the address information is available only to members of our Meetup since it is a private home.

Look for exciting new programs and internet webcasts (audio & video) in the offing very soon. Let us know if you wish to participate. We are a resource for those with questions and doubts about the standard religious narrative of life. At the same time, we bring a human centered ethic to bear in serving our fellow human beings as they struggle to overcome the delusional psychology of years of religious conditioning.

We may have only one issue, but it is undoubtedly the most important one.

As an institution committed to bring the enormously prolific benefits of the atheist proposition to ever larger numbers of our citizens, we desire to enable an enlightened majority of truly free people to turn their intelligence toward the real problems we all must face.

Find out more about end of life issues. Everyone has to face this final question. But there are choices not provided by conventional institutions. For more information see: <http://hemlockflorida.org/index.htm>

Clearwater UU Humanists

We are a group of Unitarian Universalists committed to a humanistic and non-theistic worldview. Currently, meetings are scheduled once a month and are usually held on the third Sunday of most months from 12:30 pm to 1:30 pm, after UU services.

The UU Humanists are open to all aspects of humanism, including investigation of religious humanism. However, the focus of the group is on secular aspects of humanism.

Programs have been well received with attendance between 50 and 75. To learn more, please contact: co-facilitators: Bill Norsworthy bnorsworthy@verizon.net Mark Brandt mwbrandt@mail.usf.edu Web site: www.uuclearwater.org

Clearwater, Florida

UU Humanists will have their next meeting on March 24th at 12:30 pm in the Unitarian-Universalists patio room, 2470 Nursery Road, Clearwater. Our speaker will be Ron Barnett, who is presently City Commissioner and Vice Mayor of Dunedin and formerly a professor of Philosophy at Valdosta State University. He will present a talk on "Free Will vs. Determinism". All are welcome to what promises to be, an interesting and thought-provoking talk.

Florida
Now

<http://www.flnow.org/>

NOW is a multi-issue political organization. NOW's self-defined role has been to initiate change for the benefit of the greatest number of people, to affect the legal and institutional structures of the society in a way that systematically expands the choices and possibilities available to all women. In this way, NOW takes action to bring women, as a class, into the mainstream of society, rather than offering aid to individual women in achieving personal solutions or temporary relief from oppression.

The Florida National Organization for Women (NOW) is in strong opposition to the Personhood Amendment ballot initiative for which the organization Personhood Florida is currently collecting signatures, according to Florida NOW president Donna Slutiak. "This amendment is ridiculous and an insult to women," Slutiak said. "The issue of Personhood would have very far reaching results, and would do more than criminalize abortion; it would also make birth control pills and the IUD illegal in the state of Florida. The amendment states that human life begins at the time when an egg is fertilized, which will also impact in-vitro-fertilization clinics. How would you like your mother's fertilized eggs that are sitting in a clinic freezer to have inheritance rights?"

Do you want to have to go underground to get your birth control pills?" Florida NOW expects all intelligent people to pledge not to sign this initiative, and to vote against it, if by some fluke it does get on the ballot. Personhood is bad for womanhood."

FLORIDA REPORT

Civil liberties news in the Sunshine State

Dear ACLU supporter,

Claudia Vallejo's parents wanted to give her the best start in life — when she was just fourteen, they moved her from Mexico to the U.S. Claudia attended an American high school, has American children, and is proud to call North Carolina home.

But now, eleven years later, North Carolina is considering not letting her drive because of where she was born.

For Claudia, a driver's license is more than a piece of paper. Not being able to drive legally means not being able to take her kids to school, go grocery shopping, or even see a doctor. It means having to take her five year old out of ballet lessons because she is too ashamed to keep asking for rides. It means missing soccer games with friends. Without a driver's license, everyday life is an everyday struggle.

Ask the Governor to allow Claudia to drive her kids to school.

Claudia is one of 1.4 million people brought to the U.S. as undocumented children who now hope to be on a path to citizenship (a group named DREAMers after a piece of legislation). While the specifics of this process are being debated in the Senate, the federal government has ruled Claudia and others like her are here lawfully.

In almost any other state Claudia could drive. The government has said DREAMers are in the U.S. legally, the State Attorney General agrees, but North Carolina's Department of Motor Vehicles is undecided. We need the Governor to step in and show leadership to fix this. A late surge of signatures and a national spotlight could be just what is needed to make sure the Governor makes the right choice.

Add your name to the petition being delivered to the Governor's office next week.

We CAN win this — last week, Michigan, one of the first states to deny DREAMers the right to drive, reversed their decision as a result of public pressure and legal challenges. They joined the vast majority of states that have granted DREAMers driver's licenses. Let's make North Carolina next.

For several years now, various leaders of the Freethought community in the bay area have been meeting informally to share experiences, and occasionally to coordinate plans. But recently, changing circumstances have brought additional pressure to cooperate in bringing programs and members services to an expanding movement.

At this point leaders continue to meet, and together with the various boards of directors and committees, try to develop policies that will enable every group to enhance its unique role in serving its members.

There appears to be general agreement on developing several community wide programs over the year that will allow significant speakers to be presented in our area. The costs of these programs will be shared among the organizations proportionally.

Thus substantive and exciting new activities will be offered to the Tampa Bay area that were not possible for most organizations before. We are especially grateful to the national office of the United Coalition of Reason and its director, Fred Edwards. You may recall that UCoR was the major impetus to getting a large number of billboards erected across the nation with such messages as "You can be good without God. Millions are!"

TBCoR is an alliance of groups identified with the freethought / Humanist /Atheist movement.

As this momentum continues to grow, we will keep you informed of developments. JP Contact: tbcor@metrodirect.net

Every four years, the U.S. Global Change Research Program assembles the latest science on global warming and submits a report to the president and Congress. The 2013 draft report has been made available here for review and commenting until April 12.

The science is sobering. The report states that The United States average temperature has increased 1.5 degrees Fahrenheit since 1895, 80% of which has been since 1980. We can expect an additional 3 - 10 degrees of warming depending on how dramatically we curb our greenhouse gas emissions. The impacts of global warming are already showing up--extreme weather, sea level rise, ocean acidification--and we still potentially have a lot of warming to go.

Humanist Books

One Planet One People by Carl Coon $22.

Former Ambassador to Nepal, Carl Coon provides a highly readable overview of the evolution of human society, arguing that the 21st century will witness a crucially important and difficult transition for the human race. Blending the disciplines of anthropology and evolutionary psychology with over thirty years of experience in the diplomatic corps, Coon traces the evolution of the human tendency to divide others into two groups, "us versus them." Today, he argues, we have reached a stage where the whole world must be viewed as "us," if we are to overcome the global challenges we face. Hardcover 149 pp.

The Philosophy of Humanism - Dr. Corliss Lamont $16.95

In a work that is a standard text and reference in the ongoing international discussion around secular humanism, Lamont offers an argument for a philosophy that advocates for happiness in this life rather than hope for an undefined afterlife. Paperback, 371 pages.

The Freedom from Religion Foundation

The history of Western civilization shows us that most social and moral progress has been brought about by persons free from religion. In modern times the first to speak out for prison reform, for humane treatment of the mentally ill, for abolition of capital punishment, for women's right to vote, for death with dignity for the terminally ill, and for the right to choose contraception, sterilization and abortion have been freethinkers, just as they were the first to call for an end to slavery. The Foundation works as an umbrella for those who are free from religion and are committed to the cherished principle of separation of state and church. Learn more here.

I am happy to announce the third season of the International Freethought Film Festival, and excited that I will be able to work face to face with individuals in the Orlando area to make it a success. This year we have added a screenwriting category, and the winning short script will be developed as our very first project to launch our production branch.

Promoting Reason Through Film

As thrilled as I am to be once again immersed in the planning of the fest, acquiring the motivation to actively move forward on the planning for season three of IFFF took me months of painful reflection on last years event. I wasn't certain that I could break through the paralysis brought on by the disappointment of the poor turnout back in August. All of my efforts are voluntary, and it was truly disheartening for me that so few seemed to care about our mission of promoting reason through film.

The combination of the tragic movie theater shooting in Aurora, Colorado that occurred just eight miles from the film fest venues a week prior to our kickoff; and what I felt was a let down by the secular movement in promoting IFFF 2012; were the primary reasons behind the low attendance. Each event and screening was executed as planned; and those who did attend had a great time and enjoyed the program of films and camaraderie. Freethought got some great press out of it as well! (Check out the links to the right.)

Unfortunately, ticket sales did not cover all of the venue costs, and we are still in arrears from last season. As disconcerting as this is for me, my efforts go on. I know that the International Freethought Film Festival is worthy of support; and I know that there are freethinkers who care. I am passionate about our mission of promoting reason through film, and feel strongly that it contributes to the necessary dialogue that counters irrational thought and superstitious beliefs, and the evils that can result from them.

I am still alive and kicking, but I can't do this alone. FFFF needs help from individuals who want to ensure that the International Freethought Festival grows. We are a nonprofit that is 100% independent--which means we receive zero funding from other organizations. As such, our programming is not subject to the influence thereof.

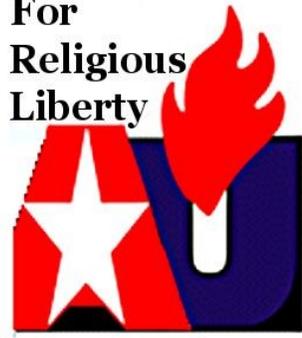

If you can afford to make a even the smallest donation to FFFF, please show your support by stopping by www.freethoughtfilmfest.org and contributing.

Humanist Families of Greater Tampa

Jennifer Hancock started this organization several years ago. It uniquely serves Humanist families with a variety of wonderful programs throughout the year.

There is a strong emphasis on creative childrearing. Here, you can make connection with other families dealing with the problems of living in a society that is still hostile to an explicitly Humanist Way of life.

Jennifer is author of several books including; The Humanist Handbook, The Humanist Approach to Happiness, and her latest book, The Bully Vaccine (illustration below). - JP
See much more at: www.Jen-Hancock.com.

Humanist Families organizes social outings every month. These are opportunities to do something fun, socialize and enjoy each other's company. Sometimes we go to a park, sometimes a museum, sometimes we go swimming. Our group has grown over the past year to the point we now organize Tampa area outings and Manatee/Sarasota area outings every month.

Throughout the year we host parties like Darwin Day in February, World Humanist Day in June, Freethought Day at Disney in October and Carl Sagan Day in November.

Among our spin off groups, is a Parenting Beyond Belief group which gets together to discuss the challenges of raising children without religion. We are on Facebook at: <http://www.facebook.com/groups/HumanistFamiliesTampa/>

Today's topic is:

What does it mean to be a Humanist?

For me, being a Humanist means that I made a commitment to myself to be a considerate, ethical, compassionate, responsible person. This is something I do for me. I self label as a Humanist because it helps me to remind myself that this is the sort of person I want to be.

These are my ideals. I need to make a good faith effort to actually live by my values.

I had a conversation with a friend a couple of weeks ago and we were discussing the difference between ethics and morality. For the most part, this is a distinction without a difference. But ... the difference does matter.

Ethics is a system of values. What you value. Morality is how well you live life by your ethics. Morality is a judgment about whether a) your ethical values are good and helpful to others and b) whether your actions are in accordance with your stated values.

It isn't enough to profess to a good set of ethics. You have to actually be moral to be a good person. to me, this is what it is to be a Humanist. It is a commitment to be moral.

What does being a Humanist mean to you? Why have you chosen to be a Humanist or to learn more about the philosophy?

Jennifer Hancock

HUMANISTS CAN MAKE A DIFFERENCE IN A CHILD'S LIFE

The need is great. All it takes is about an hour out of a day and the commitment to show up once a week. The feeling of having helped is most gratifying. How can we as Humanists not act to impact a child in the inner city in a positive manner?

YOU can give a child a much-needed hour of personal attention that will encourage reading and just might help them to move forward while improving their self-esteem.

In two 1-hour sessions, I have encountered children, some of whom have already had to repeat kindergarten, that barely recognize or are able to say the alphabet or the sound of the letter. This is half way through the school year. In two 1-hour sessions, 3 third-grade girls are unable to break down or sound out a word. They cannot grasp the concept of context since they are still struggling with the words.

Teachers struggle with discipline issues and the pressure of preparing the children for FCAT testing. With patience and intensive learning, you can help these children grow into their potential.

Stand with the 72 U.S. Representatives Voting NO!

Dear Torchbearer of Liberty,

By a vote of 354-72 the House of Representatives passed a bill to use taxpayer's money to rebuild religious buildings. If you are like me you believe that since religious organizations enjoy a tax exemption, tax-payer money should not be used for their benefit.

The first amendment protects against government favoring religion over secular concerns. Government should remain neutral.

On February 13, the House of Representatives passed HR 592, a bill to allow taxpayer money to go towards the rebuilding of houses of worship by a vote of 354-72.

Here's the bill's language

Federal Disaster Assistance Nonprofit Fairness Act of 2013 - Amends the Robert T. Stafford Disaster Relief and Emergency Assistance Act to include community centers, including tax-exempt houses of worship, as "private nonprofit facilities" for purposes of disaster relief and emergency assistance eligibility under such Act. Makes a church, synagogue, mosque, temple, or other house of worship, and a private nonprofit facility operated by a religious organization, eligible for federal contributions for the repair, restoration, and replacement of facilities damaged or destroyed by a major disaster, without regard to the religious character of the facility or the primary religious use of the facility.

Makes this Act applicable to the provision of assistance in response to a major disaster or emergency declared on or after October 28, 2012.

Light the Way!

Find the phone number for your representative and call today.

If you are one of the lucky ones who is represented by one of the courageous 72, make a quick call, mention you are a constituent and thank them.

If you are represented by a member who favors religion, let them know in a polite way that they are elected to uphold the Constitution and represent us all. Inform them you're a constituent who is disappointed in their vote on HR 592. Ask them to vote for secular values the next time they have the opportunity.

CFI & Community Outreach

By Rick O'Keefe

CFI-Tampa Bay is pleased to be co-sponsoring March's Humanist Society of the Suncoast discussion on the divisions of liberal and conservative thinking, led by Matt Cooper. Because education is at the core of Humanism and Center for Inquiry, here is a synopsis of what CFI offers, from the basics up through an accredited Masters course, plus Summer Camp for the kids.

The educational programs of CFI are concentrated in the CFI Institute, founded in 1987. The Institute is the oldest continuously operating academic program of its kind in North America, the only one supported by a research organization or "think tank," and the only program staffed with resident fellows (faculty) and a significant number of distinguished visiting fellows.

We offer study of humanist thought and practice, with special reference to secular humanism and models and methods of scientific inquiry. Students can interact with and learn from the leading lights in the field of humanism and secularism. See our Institute Catalogue here.

Rick O'Keefe

CFI Institute Online

The Institute now offers adult/continuing education seminar courses online, featuring leading authors, professors, and public figures focusing on issues such as science, secularism, humanism, and skepticism. Visit the CFI Institute Online for more information.

Science and the Public Ed.M.

CFI partners with the Graduate School of Education of the University at Buffalo in offering the accredited Ed.M. program in Science and the Public, available entirely online!

Camp Inquiry

CFI also operates Camp Inquiry, a summer camp that helps youth confront the challenges of living a non-theistic/secular lifestyle in a world dominated by religious belief and pseudoscience.

In 2013, Camp Inquiry will be in session from August 4th through August 12th. Registration will open after the new year. For more information please visit campinquiry.org

If you are unable to attend Camp Inquiry, please check the schedule for Camp Quest, which offers a well-regarded secular summer camp at various locations throughout the United States.

Philo: A Journal of Philosophy is a peer-reviewed academic journal which publishes original, conceptually precise, and argumentatively rigorous articles in all fields of philosophy. Although not devoted to any specific branch of philosophy, Philo encourages the submission of work that examines philosophical issues from an explicitly naturalist perspective. It also welcomes work on the philosophical credentials of both naturalism and various supernaturalist alternatives to naturalism.

The Scientific Review of Mental Health Practice is the only peer-reviewed journal devoted exclusively to distinguishing scientifically-supported claims from scientifically-unsupported claims in clinical psychology, psychiatry, social work, and allied disciplines.

What is Tampa Bay Skeptics?

Founded in 1988, Tampa Bay Skeptics is a nonprofit educational and scientific organization devoted to the critical examination of paranormal and fringe-science claims, and the dissemination of factual information about such claims. In 2004, TBS became a Special Interest Group of the Center For Inquiry–Tampa Bay.

Particular areas of interest to TBS include UFOs, "psychic" power, astrology, fringe science & medicine, purported miracles and other New Age claims. Our interest in religion is restricted to claims that can be objectively tested and potentially verified, such as "weeping icons" or miraculous healings.

TBS conducts its own investigations, follows the activities of other skeptics groups, monitors the press coverage of the paranormal, and publishes a quarterly newsletter, Tampa Bay Skeptics Report, which is also distributed gratis to members of the press and to many other skeptics groups around the world. TBS also makes its representatives available to local and national media to provide a skeptical voice as a counterweight to the irrationalism and superstition that is increasingly prevalent in the television and print media. We have been instrumental in examining and reporting upon the Tarpon Springs "weeping icon," hypnosis, (in)famous psychics, local astrologers, etc.

TBS does not reject claims out of hand, but rather is committed to objective and critical inquiry. In this vein, we share the philosophy of the Committee for Skeptical Inquiry (CSI) -- publisher of Skeptical Inquirer magazine, an international organization that has nurtured the growth of local skeptics groups (such as ours) all over the world.

Membership in TBS

We encourage those who wish to help further the cause of skepticism to join TBS! You can take your first step, and make a statement about irrationality and superstition at the same time, by writing a check for $15 to cover your first year's dues. Annual membership includes four issues of Tampa Bay Skeptics Report, each snailmailed to you in advance of our quarterly meetings (last Saturday of every March, June, September, and December). Members also receive a 30% discount on any Prometheus Books purchased through TBS.

Make your $15 check payable to "Tampa Bay Skeptics" and mail to:

Practical Freethought

Thousands of your friends and neighbors in the Tampa Bay area feel the same as you. The Tampa Bay Coalition of Reason is a group of local organizations joined together to increase the growth, visibility and acceptance of nontheists throughout the area.

All of these groups share common ground, while each has its own particular emphasis and atmosphere. Some are focused on scientific inquiry and education. Others are focused on ethics and community, activism or the arts. Others monitor state/church separation and fight for your civil rights. All alike are committed to promoting the wider acceptance of a more rational and contemporary view of humanity and the universe we live in.

TampaBayCoR.org is where secular people in the Tampa Bay area can discover groups to join, activities in which to participate, events to attend and like-minded people with which to socialize. In short, we want to help those who have grown beyond religious belief to find their philosophical home.

Those nonbelievers who are not ready, or who are unable, to “come out” can take comfort in knowing that they are not the only ones who accept the reality of a 100% natural world.

For the religious community, we want them to realize that, although nontheists reject the supernatural, we share with them compassionate human values that most religious believers embrace. In most ways, we are like them; hard working, taxpaying, moral citizens who care deeply about our families, our communities, our state and our country.

Nontheists are a large minority, larger than many minorities having much more political and cultural influence than we do. Based on the US Census Bureau estimate of Florida’s 2008 population and several polls, we estimate our statewide constituency at about 2,800,000 residents (more than 400,000 in the Tampa Bay quad-county area). TampaBayCoR has organized to increase our standing in the marketplace of ideas and to take our rightful place at the table of acceptance and equal rights. We invite all nontheists to support us in our efforts by joining and actively participating in one of TBCoR’s constituent groups.

Even if you never join a group or attend a meeting you can help Florida move forward by contributing to local or national participating organizations. And you can always help to further the nontheistic community just by standing up proudly for your reality-based life among your friends and family. It’s OK to not believe in gods. And, yes—not only can you be good without a god or religion, but in most cases, far better off. Millions of us are. R.O.
